Unlike will trusts, which come into being on your death, lifetime trusts are established straight away. Your home is gifted to the trust, which allows you to carry on living in it. It is generally not possible to use a lifetime trust to exempt your home from the local authority's calculations of your assets, when assessing your care home costs.

~~Will trusts and lifetime trusts – Which?~~

As long as it's valid and applies to your situation, an advance decision gives your health and social care team clinical and legal instructions about your treatment choices. An advance decision will only be used if, at some time in the future, you're not able to make your own decisions about your treatment.

Choose your trustees. You have to choose people to be your trustees, usually family members or close friends who you know you can rely on. Think carefully about who to ask, and make sure they're happy to take on the responsibility. You should have at least two trustees, but probably no more than three or four.

If you are making a minor amendment to your will, you can add a supplement, known as a codicil. This must be signed and witnessed in the same way as the will, although the witnesses don't have to be the same as the original ones. If anything substantial needs to be changed, you should make a new will and cancel your old one.
